Bishop of Llandaff*

October 2021

Dear Friends,

In recent weeks and months the world has seen many signs of climate change, extreme weather conditions causing issues such as flash-flooding and fires in various regions of the globe. As the COP26 summit approaches in Scotland next month, no doubt our minds are turning to the changes we can make as churches to address the issues we face as a result of global warming, and how we can make changes which will help stabilise the planet.

I commend to you the attached paper from the Diocesan Eco Group and encourage you to engage with them on the challenges we face in the years to come. Please also pray for the leaders of the nations as they gather for COP26.

*With all blessings,
+ June*
